WHAT price personality? That question is everlastingly applied in the evaluation of the prime factors in the making of motion pictures. It is applied to the star, the producer, the director, the writer and the other human ingredients that combine in the production of a motion picture.

- And for all alike there is a common denominator—the boxoffice.

- It has often been stated that each personality is as good as his or her last picture. But it is unfair to make an evaluation on such a basis. The average for a season, based on intakes at the boxoffices throughout the land, is the more reliable measuring stick.

- To render a service heretofore lacking, the publishers of BOXOFFICE have surveyed the field of the motion picture theatre and herein present BOXOFFICE RECORDS that tell their own important story.

BOXOFFICE BAROMETER is the only annual publication that virtually goes to every theatre in the United States and Canada—that gives the exhibitor practical information and guidance of daily use in every phase of his business. It is the only year book compiled expressly for service to theatre owners and managers. It tells them what they need and want to know—an authentic guide to booking, buying and exploitation of pictures; a manual covering the mechanics of theatre operation, property modernization and equipment maintenance. It is the most effective medium through which to attract the interest and gain the confidence of theatre management. It gets to and stays with the man you want to sell. Shortly after New Year's day, the new volume will appear on the desk of every theatre executive, where it will remain throughout the year for frequent daily reference.
